

Light/Shadow

April 24, '98

On the side of shadow
Looking towards the light
I sit and wait
For something great
To pass before my sight

Trapped amidst the darkness
By just a pane of glass
Longing to cross over
Always staying back

Pinioned by the darkness
Held back by my fright
With bitterest emotions
I'm forced to watch the light

Beyond the glass is future
Beyond the glass is life
Beyond the glass my freedom
Beyond the glass the light

Safety here in darkness
But ignorance is pain
Shadow hides the teardrops
Light burns them all away

Shatter now this window
Tear down the glass facade
Mingle light and shadow
Purge all the pain inside
